[Special to The Times.]

Winnipeg, Jan. 18—La Riviere, conservative, H. Clark, conservative, and Richard, independent, were nominated for Provencher yesterday.

Ottawa, Jan. 18—The liberals have taken heart from yesterday's big victory in Joliette county, which never sent any but a conservative to Ottawa.

The customs department have received during the first half of the fiscal year from Chinese immigration the sum of $28,361, compared with $5,095 for a corresponding period last year. The increase is due to the United States exclusion bill, several hundred Chinese returning before they were aware of the new law, preferring to pay the Canadian tax than go back. Since then this special immigration to Canada has again dropped, and only nine Chinamen entered the country last month.

After the Gaudaur race it is probable O'Connor will go to Australia unless he can induce either Searle or Kemp to go to England. He is after the championship of the world and wants the race at $5000 aside for it, either in Australia or England. He is indifferent.

QUEENSLAND'S DEFENCE FORCE.

The Australians Not so Fond of Soldiering as We in Canada.

Col. Walker Powell, Adjutant-General of Militia, has received from Lieut.-Col. G. A. French, commandant of the Queensland (Australia) defence force, a copy of his last annual report dated 30th June, 1888. From this it appears that the strength of the defence force, which, on the 30th June, 1887, was 124 officers, 2071 men, at the time of the publication of the report was 117 officers and 2199 non-commissioned officers and men; the regular force on the 30th June, 1887, numbered 33 officers and 1246 non-commissioned officers and men. A year later the establishment of the force was placed at 39 officers and 1,117 non-commissioned officers and men whilst the strength had decreased to 32 officers and 920 non-commissioned officers and men. Unlike the Canadians, who appear to be burning with military ardor, the Queenslanders have to be pitch-forked into soldiering. Col. French in the course of his report points out that the attendance at camp was not so large as the officers had anticipated and that the Queensland Irish and Queensland Scottish corps have lost in numbers. The refusal of so many volunteer corps last year, appear to have had a depressing effect on this branch of the service. Four new rifle clubs were started during the year, and the number of members at the end of the year was 1,049. In regard to cadet corps there has been no very decided increase in numbers. The strength in 1880 was 220, whereas last year it was only 291. Col. French recommends that all scholars attending state schools should be regularly drilled. Queensland has a naval force and an attack from the sea demonstrated the value of the electric light for discovering movements at night. Col. French recommends some changes in the style of uniform in the direction of the Indian khakie, or drab colored dress, rather than the English scarlet or blue. In addition to the numbers given before there are connected with the force 64 unattached and medical officers, 700 police and 350 marine force. There is a very efficient battery of artillery at Queensland, the total number of men serving with which is 64. This battery gives instruction to the rest of the forces.

SACKVILLE AFFAIR.

The Recalled Minister Shows How He was Sacrificed to Party.

London, Jan. 14—The correspondence between the American and British governments in reference to the Sackville incident is being given to the public in daily installments. In one communication to Lord Salisbury, Sackville claims that on October 26th he had interviews with Secretary Bayard about the Murchison letter, in which he received the impression that his explanation was satisfactory. He received no further communication until his passports were sent him on the 30th. He continues; "I was all along ignorant of the precise grounds on which my removal was sought, but party exigencies over-ruled international comity. Telegrams were being received to the effect that the Irish vote in New York was slipping away from the Democratic ticket, and immediate action was necessary on the question of my dismissal in order to conciliate these voters. This action, involving as it did a want of courtesy which, I venture to think, is unprecedented in the history of diplomatic intercourse, was taken on the 30th, without any intimation to me from Bayard that the situation was in any way changed since I saw him on the 25th, when he accepted my explanation and said he bore me no ill will. The question at issue had never assumed an international character as far as I was aware until the moment it was decided to send me my passports, when all adjustment was rendered impossible, and an incident which concerned me personally was thus at once made the cause of serious complications with Her Majesty's government. All the leading papers are devoting most of their editorials to befriending the diplomatic blunders of Sackville and Morier.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Texada Ore—Lecture—Death of Jas. Summer—Accident.

[From the Courier.]

Some of the samples of Texada ore contain rich indications of copper. Quite a number of prospectors left for Texada last night and on Wednesday, and by the time the flowers bloom in the spring, it is supposed that there won't be ground enough left upon which to effect a peaceable landing, much less to locate a claim.

NEW YORK JOURNALISTS.

A Little Gossip Concerning Their Work and Magnificent Salaries.

Charles A. Dana is, perhaps, the most famous of the men who have drawn literary prizes in New York. As editor of the Sun he draws a salary of $25,000 per year, and from other sources his income is swelled to about $150,000 per year, upon which he manages to live very comfortably, aided by a French cook, whose income is bigger than that of a congressman. Dana started on the New York Tribune at a salary of $12 per week. He started in a small way from a small town in the interior of Ohio. Joseph Pulitzer, of the World, is said to clear $3000 per day. He is not a working journalist now but not many years ago he was an ordinary reporter in St. Louis, and they say he was a hustler too. Whitelaw Reid, as a matter of form, draws a salary of some $15,000 per year from the Tribune, but his income from his stock in the paper is several times that amount. John A. Cockerill is one of the working managing editors and newspaper men, and draws a salary of $15,000 per year from the World, and has an interest in it besides. Cockerill was a typo and fought his way up from the ranks. Amos Cummings is said to have an income of $15,000 per year. He was a compositor and a private in the Union army during the rebellion, and he, too, came from the bottom up to where he is now. Chester A. Lord, the managing editor of the Sun, has a salary of $7,500 per year. He started on a small paper in the interior of this state, and had to work hard for success. But he is little known outside of New York. George F. Spinney, as managing editor of the New York Times has a salary of about $7,000 per year. But he has been a hard-working journalist all his life, and the salary is not so much. He, too, is little known outside of New York.

There are probably 50 or 60 men who are simply writers, like Blakely Hall and Julian Ralph, who earn anywhere from $50 to $150 per week, but with the exception of the men named, and four or five more, they are never heard of or spoken of except in their own homes and circles.

ALL THE WORLD OVER

The International Maritime Conference—One Hundred Sealing Vessels.

Gov. Swineford's Report on Alaska—Terrible Explosion in a Mine.

London, Jan. 18—There was an explosion of fire damp to-day in the Hyde colliery, near Manchester. Seven bodies have been taken from the mines. A hundred miners still remain entombed in the mine but it cannot be ascertained how many lives are lost.

Later.—Twenty-five miners were killed by the explosion.

INTERNATIONAL MARITIME CONFERENCE.

New York, Jan. 18—A member of parliament cables as follows from London to this morning's Herald: "A statement having been made here to the effect that Secretary Bayard recalled the invitation which he had addressed to various governments to take part in an international maritime conference owing to certain demands made by Great Britain, I thought it right to ascertain for you the exact facts from the very best authority. Whether or not Mr. Bayard has recalled the invitations is of course better known in Washington than in London, but I am able to give explicit contradition to the statement that Great Britain has made any demands of a nature to throw serious obstacles in the way of the proposed conference. The project originated in an act of Congress, and no objection was made here to the conference with the view of deciding certain questions connected with the rule of the road at sea. Lights and other matters relating to the practical work of navigation to such points alone was in the action of the conference to be confirmed. That was well understood on all sides when, however, pour parlers had proceeded a little further it was found that certain difficulties existed with regard to the application of the principles likely to be discussed. Great Britain, as having the greatest mercantile marine in the world, could scarcely be called upon to accept the proposals which might have effect in interfering with the ordinary course of trade. These difficulties were neither created by the United States nor by England, neither has there been any disagreement between the two governments on the subject. No demands have been made on one side or rejected on the other. It was found in effect that the conference was impracticable and if held could lead to no useful results. For the present, therefore, it is in abeyance, but I am assured the British Government is perfectly willing at any time to discuss the arrangement with the view of insuring the safety of vessels at sea, or any other question of interest to the Powers which are engaged in carrying on international commerce. If the conference provided for by act of Congress breaks down, it will simply be owing to the fact that the scheme would not work and that practical men speedily recognized this when it came to be closely examined. The statement by correspondents at Washington is therefore exaggerated, if not wholly improbable".

GOV. SWINEFORD'S REPORT.

Washington, Jan. 18—The last report of Governor Swineford of Alaska, which has just been received at the Interior Department, is very voluminous. The governor first enters into an elaborate description of the territory, and estimates the annual resources at $9,000,000, divided as follows: Fisheries, $4,000,000; minerals, $2,000,000; all other resources, about $3,000,000. He urges the development of the territory's mines, especially of coal, which, he claims, exists in large quantities. Considerable space is devoted to the charges against the Alaska Seal Company, and he states that those heretofore published give only a portion of the story. He criticises the company severely and charges them with illtreating the Indians and making them slaves, and of completely demoralizing business in the territory. He attacks the congressional investigation of the charges and says it will not amount to anything. In conclusion he recommends the entire reorganization of the territory and that Indians be given a little civil government.

THE PANAMA CANAL COMPANY.

Paris, Jan. 18—The total expenses of the issue and constitution of the new Panama Canal Company was resumed by the Bank of Parisanne with the provision that it shall receive one per cent of the net profit after the canal shall have been opened. The approval of the scheme by a meeting to be held on January 26th is believed to be assured. Unless 300,000 proxies are obtained the company will be judically wound up.

AN EDITOR IN TROUBLE.

Chicago, Jan. 18—Judge Clifford this morning issued a capias for the arrest of J. J. West, editor of the Times, as asked by Capt. M. J. Schaak. Bail has been fixed at $300. This is the result of the Times crusade against Schaack, Bonfield and others.

DUTY ON TIN.

Washington, Jan. 17.—On behalf of the Republicans, the argument was made that there was an abundance of tin in Dakota and other parts of the country, and an increased duty on tin plate would develop the tin mines and be remunerative to the tin plate industry, on behalf of Democrats, it was argued that the proposed increase on duty in tin plate was for the purpose of establishing a new industry and was dangerous and exceptional legislation, carrying protection to the extreme never before contemplated by judicious minds.

WORK ON PANAMA CANAL CLOSED.

New Orleans, Jan. 18—The steamer Haytian, from Colon, reports that all work on the Panama canal has been stopped.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 18—A passenger train on the North Western and Florida railway fell through a bridge over a creek fifty miles south of here last night. The engineer and two passengers are reported killed.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

London, Jan. 17—The Standard says: The publication of the Geffcken indictment shows that Bismarck himself was the author of the monstrous charges against B. D. Morier. The Kaiser had chosen openly to associate himself with the Chancellor's tortuous policy. There is a cold brutality about the whole business which is exceedingly unpleasant. Bismarck has outraged public opinion in a way in which it has hardly ever been outraged before. The Times says: Nothing but the habit of trying to repress the discussion could ever have imposed upon an intellect like Bismarck's. In such an absurdly exaggerated estimate of the importance of private dislike and academic opposition, one hardly knows which is the weaker side, the parliamentary attack on Morier or the publication of the indictment. There is a striking want of dignity and magnanimity about the whole affair.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

London, Jan. 17.—When the Parnell commission resumed its sitting to-day, Patrick Delaney continued his testimony. He persisted in the statement that he saw Boyton, point out to Brady, one of the invincibles, Chairman Bourke, of the prison board, for assassination. Witness was positive he had often seen Michael Davitt in company with Dan Curley. Delaney was shown a photograph of a man in uniform, and he declared it was the picture of a man known as "number one."

THE MURDERED MISSIONARIES.

London, Jan. 18.—Later Zanzibar dispatches somewhat mitigate the honor of first reports of the native attack on the German Mission Station at Lugo on Sunday, and it is now said that only four missionaries were murdered during the attack. Three others, however, were carried off and are held for ransom by the captors, one of them being a woman. Two male missionaries escaped. The German squadron has landed a detachment of marines to garrison Dares and Salem.

PANAMA CANAL.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Parisian bank has undertaken to defray all expenses of the issue of shares of organization of the new Panama Canal Company; but it stipulates that after the opening of the canal it shall receive one per cent. of net receipts. There is no doubt a meeting to be held on the 26th will approve of the project if 300,000 shares are not represented at the meeting. The old company will go into judicial liquidation.

EARTHQUAKE.

Edinburgh, Jan. 18—A slight shock of earthquake was felt near here to-day. No damage was done.

CIGAR-MAKERS' STRIKE.

New York, Jan. 18—All the cigar makers employed in forty Havana cigar manufactories of this city struck to-day against a reduction of $2 per 1000 which the bosses made 18 months ago. The strikers, numbering over 1000 are mostly Cubans with a sprinkling of Americans.

THE AMOUNT OF INDEMNITY.

Port-au-Prince, Jan. 18.—The steamship Haytian Republic was run into by the Haytian gunboat Novelle Voldrogue on December 20th, slight damage was done to either of the vessels. The Haytian gunboat was entering the harbor at full speed, and could have steamed to anchorage without any change of course, but when within 200 yards of the Haytian Republic her helm was suddenly put to port, and remained so until she struck that vessel. The gunboat was hailed but no answer was made, neither did the captain attempt to ascertain the amount of damage she had done or offer assistance. After ascertaining the damage done, the Galena sent an armed boat's crew to the offending gunboat. The statement is made that the jamming of the rudder ropes caused the collision. It is the opinion that it was a deliberate attempt to scuttle the released ship.

MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 18.—John Greenwall was to-day convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree. He murdered Lyman S. Weeks on Dekalb Avenue, in March 1887.

TERRITORIAL BILL REJECTED.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 18.—The House this morning resumed the consideration of Territorial bills pending. The question being the MacDonald substitute for the Springer Omnibus bills. The substitute provides for the immediate admission of South Dakota and was rejected. Yeas, 117; nays, 122.

THE ELECTION.

About a week ago, and after Mayor GRANT had, in replying to a requisition signed by two hundred and four influential ratepayers, announced his determination, for business reasons, not again to accept a nomination, the Colonist published a leading article headed "Whitewashed," which was a gratuitous and unnecessary insult to Mayor GRANT and the gentlemen who signed his requisition. But for the appearance of the article referred to, Mayor GRANT would not have become a candidate, and Mr. ROBERT WARD would to-day have been Mayor of the city of Victoria. The requisition to Mayor GRANT was referred to as a "whitewashing" document, and with a cynicism and foolhardiness born of an utter contempt for public opinion, and an indifference to the interests of Mr. WARD, the bona fides of the requisition were attacked, and the "influential" character of the signers offensively assailed. "It would be edifying to know," the Colonist said, "who the 'influential' ratepayers are that have formed such a high estimate of Mr. JOHN GRANT'S official character." The "RUSSELL case" was dragged in and the cowardly slanders that came within an ace of lodging the libellers in prison were again resorted to, and apparently for no other purpose than to traduce the character of a man who had signified his intention of relinquishing the cares of office and returning into private life. No honest man would submit to such treatment. Mayor GRANT, convinced of the rectitude of his own conduct, and conscious that the people of Victoria were all but unanimous in their approval of the course which he, as Mayor, had thought it his duty to pursue, acceded to the earnest solicitations of his friends and announced himself a candidate. The issue was of the Colonist's making. It was not, properly speaking, a contest between Mayor GRANT and Mr. ROBERT WARD; it was a fight between a vulgar and mendacious newspaper and Mayor GRANT. It was a protest against malignant personal abuse. Mr. WARD's fitness and undoubted qualifications for the office to which he had by the Colonist people been led to aspire were in a large measure lost sight of. The people of Victoria, who know JOHN GRANT to be an honest man, a true friend, a public-spirited citizen, a fearless but generous opponent, and a faithful servant of the city, rose up in rebellion against the daily diatribes of an evil-minded paper. The spectacle was undoubtedly an "edifying" one, and the result is before the people. Only 204 influential voters signed the requisition; but 613 marked their ballots for the man denounced by the Colonist as unfit for the position of Mayor, who was elected by a majority of 226, the largest we believe ever recorded at a civic election in Victoria. It would, we admit, be "edifying" to have the names of these 613 voters who have declared that the conduct of the Colonist was so outrageously cowardly and malevolent that it became necessary, in the public interest, to condemn it; but the ballot box will not give us the information and the pardonable curiosity of our contemporary cannot for the present be gratified.

As we have already stated, the victory of the Mayor, which is crushing and complete, was obtained over the brawling brood of black-mailers who subsist on the reputation of a journal that once was an influential exponent of public opinion. We regret that, for the time being, THE TIMES apparently was in antagonism to Mr. WARD and his supporters. The latter, we are also certain, felt throughout the canvass that they had been placed in a false position towards Mayor GRANT, and while they stood by Mr. WARD to the last, knowing all the time that his defeat was assured, they do not greatly regret the outcome of this extraordinary contest. We will not indulge in offensive glorification over the victory. The election was a remarkable one in many ways, but in none more than in the manner that political party predilections were thrust aside and all united together for a common object. It made no difference who Mayor GRANT'S opponent was, the result would have been the same. It is not, therefore, that Mr. WARD was defeated that we compliment the people of Victoria upon the result; but because arrogance has been effectively snubbed and literary brigandage has received its death-blow. We have ground, it is true, for rejoicing, and might be pardoned for magnifying the victory and printing a rooster at the head of this column, after the style of the Colonist on such occasions, but we do not believe in such childish manifestations of glee. The only person that has been hurt in the contest is the dull-witted editor of the Colonist, and his position is pitiable in the extreme. He is now, no doubt, calling upon the rocks to hide him, and the mountains to fall upon and cover him from the gaze of those he has betrayed. If his prayer remains unanswered until to-morrow he ought to go out into the Straits and drown himself.

THE COLONIST AND THE ELECTION.

The result of the election not only vindicates in language stronger than words the integrity of Mayor GRANT, but forcibly illustrates the impotency of the Colonist as an influential journal. For the last six weeks scarcely an issue of the paper in question has appeared which was not characterized by venomous attacks on the Mayor, on grounds so puerile as to suggest that malice rather than solicitude for the public weal was the primary cause. The fact of the matter is, the Colonist, blinded by its prejudices, cannot discern merit, and with an ignorance of human nature born of spleen, and itching palm, attempted to sway the judgment and magnanimous impulses of the people of Victoria. The Colonist has considerable to learn. It has yet to absorb through the thick ossiferous dome which conceals its intellect from the public gaze, the eternal truth that personal vindictiveness and persistent misrepresentation are poor auxiliaries in localities where men are free to follow the dictates of their own judgment. But we will not occupy space in giving the Colonist pointers on its infirmities, and for two reasons. First, because it is constitutionally incapable of being advised, and secondly, because the rebuke it has received calls for our commiseration. It is a sight to make angels weep when men undertake to conduct newspapers who are swayed by malice instead of reason. We hope the Colonist will so far profit by the result of yesterday as to conduct future campaigns for civic honors with magnanimity and a decent regard for veracity.

A RESURRECTION.

Doctors will tell you that a person once thoroughly frozen cannot be restored to life again, and yet in defiance of such dictum, CLARK RUSSELL, the greatest realistic prose writer of nautical tales, gives us a circumstantial account of the resuscitation of a frozen pirate in his story of that name. Later, indeed no later than August last, a man was resuscitated, and walks the streets of San Francisco, who it is supposed has been frozen in the ice ten thousand years ago. A certain RICHARD BURNHAM takes a trip north in a whaling ship, and discovers in the ice the corpse of a man perfect in all its parts, and of course solidly frozen. By paying the captain of the whaler $30,000 Mr. BARNHAM induces him to return to San Francisco, where in the laboratory a certain Dr. DUNN the pre-historic survival is relieved of his icy environment with the assistance of a hot stove and steam. The body thawed out, the water is pumped out of the lungs and air pumped in. Next the heart's action is restored by the use of "strephanthus," an herb which grows in east Africa only. An electrical battery is next applied and from the confined effect of artificial respiration the "strephanthus" injected into the medium vein to stimulate the heart's action, and the electrical battery acting on the nerves, the man is revived, eats a plate of soup and swallows a couple of glasses of Madeira. This individual, according to the veracious ROBERT DUNCAN MILNE, the storey teller of the Argonaut is now in the habit of perambulating the streets of San Francisco daily, and is also acquiring rapidly the mastery of the English language. It seems a pity, almost, that this alleged relic of pre-historic times, intelligent as he is accredited with being, is not something more than the creation of the human fancy. What mysteries of the earth's past history he could reveal; what theories he could upset, and what estimates he could confirm, and above all, what a bonanza he would be to a dime museum. Strange things have happened. Fact, indeed, has often put fiction to the blush. A few years ago JULES VERNE'S "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" was received merely as an entertaining tale, and yet in the light of recent developments it is not unlikely that the fancy of the French story-teller will be to all intents and purposes brought to a realization. Of course human invention may not presume to explore the vast depths of the sea or reach the South Pole; but with the secret of the storage of electricity, and the ability to run powerful machinery with it, sub-marine navigation will be a comparatively easy task. But if we only could unsolve the riddle of the past. If we could but resurrect a frozen barbarian of 10,000 years ago. Fancy the anxiety of geologists and evolutionists, and conceive the solicitude of theologians to acquaint themselves with his religious predilections. But suppose it was impossible to resuscitate a man who perished by freezing 10,000 years ago, there is another question connected with it, that of a psychological character. Would the soul in case of such a revival return to the body? Think of the soul being recalled from hades or heaven after being absent from the body 10,000 years! If the soul should have chanced to be in heaven, conceive its reluctance to the re-occupancy of the mortal function. Or, on the other hand, should the soul have been in hades, imagine the precipitancy with which it would resume its former place of residence. The resuscitation of the body under the conditions described by Mr. MILNE would set at rest once and forever our status after death. Conjointly with the physical the spirit must resume its functions, otherwise we should have simply an automaton. And it is just here that resurrection by mortal hands is impossible. Science may set the heart to beating, and the blood to circulating, but it cannot reproduce the psychological condition. This would be trespassing on the divine preogative, lifting the veil between us and the future which the fiat of Almighty God has interposed. The Author of our being never intended that we should fathom the secrets of future existence. A palpable manifestation of His grandeur we may not have. If we could raise the dead, the soul resuming its mortal environment, the supreme secret would be revealed, and the knowledge of it would lessen its tremendous sublimity. It is perhaps, such considerations as these which lead agnostics to suspect that no man was ever raised from the dead, not even LAZARUS.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The police magistrate of Hamilton, Ont., has announced that he considers lotteries at church bazaars, etc., illegal, and will fine anybody who is proved before him to have been concerned in them.

Sir John Macdonald has promised the Knights of Labor in Toronto that he would support measures for the establishment of a legal holiday to be known as "Labor Day," and also for a better inspection of the mills, and the enforcement of the Seamen's Act.

The Colonist will now perhaps take a word of advice from the TIMES. You have, much esteemed contemporary, been doffing your hat too often lately to the dollar. If you will brace up a bit and be more manly and less of a toady and go in for giving a poor man a chance once in a while, you will succed better.

Nicholas Flood Davin, of the Regnia Leader, and Octon Burrows, of the Winnipeg Call, are at present in a keen journalistic tilt. The Leader refers to the editor of the Call as "Darwin's Missing Link," to which the Call retorts by terming the editor of the Leader "a whiskey soaked bummer." What is the Home Missionary Society about?

Our morning contemporary claims that it has not apologised to Mayor Grant for the serious reflections cast on his personal character and honesty. Now a public opinion has decided that if the Colonist has not apologised it should do so, and people will therefore look for an apology from our contemporary before it can be received into society on its old footing.

The legislative committee of the Toronto city council met at the city hall to discuss the question of a special charter for the city. By invitation ex-Mayor Beatty, Oliver Howland, A. Houston, J. J. Withrow and Alderman-elect Thomas Davies, were present, and made suggestions. Mr. Howland advocated different aldermen to represent different classes in cities. His suggestion was opposed by all the other speakers. The consensus of opinion was that Toronto needed no special charter, but that heads of different departments should be independent of the council, have increased powers, and should appoint their own subordinates; they should be well paid; should be responsible to the people through the Mayor, who should also receive a good salary and give all his time to the city.

"A North Carolina justice of the peace fined a citizen $5 for contempt of court in not bringing out a pail of water for the justice's horse while he was traveling."

This paragraph is going the rounds as illustrating a legal absurdity which could occur only in North Carolina. The fact is, any judge or magistrate in Canada can do the same thing if he pleases. If any judge or magistrate in Canada pleases, he can fine for contempt of court a hotel cook who does not turn out a beefsteak quite to suit him. By the law of our land, a judge can both define what contempt of court is, and punish any man in the country for breaking the law made purely by the judge himself. This may sound funny, but it is exactly the principle which was determined by the Hawke case in New Brunswick last year, and by dozens of other cases which have occurred in this country.

CREEDS OF THE BELLS.

The following lines are not new, but they will bear repetition. As a recitation, when given with distinctive intonations for each description of bell, they are very fine:

How sweet the chime of the Sabbath bells!
Each one its creed in music tells,
In tones that float upon the air,
And soft as song and pure as prayer;
And I will put in a simple rhyme
The language of the golden chime.
My happy heart with rapture swells
Responsive to the bells—sweet bells.

"In deeds of love excel, excel,"
Chimed out from ivied towers a bell.
"This is the church not built on sands,
Emblem of God not built with hands:
Its forms and sacred rights revere,
Come worship here—come worship here;
In rituals and faith excel,"
Chimed the Episcopalian bell.

"Oh heed the ancient landmarks well,"
In solemn tones explained a bell,
"No progress made by mortal man
Can change the just eternal plan;
Do not invoke the avenging rod
Come here and learn the way to God.
Say to the world, farewell—farewell!"
Pealed out the Presbyterian bell.

"Oh swell ye cleansing waters, swell,"
In mellow tones sang out a bell.
"Through faith alone in Christ can save;
Man must be plunged beneath the wave,
To show the world unfaltering faith
In what the sacred scripture saith.
Oh swell, ye rising waters, swell"
Pealed out the clear-toned Baptist bell.

"Not faith alone, but works as well,
Must test the soul," said a soft bell;
"Come here and cast aside your load
And work your way along the road.
And hope in Christ, where hope began;
Do well—do well—do well—do well."
Pealed forth the Unitarian bell.

"In after life there is no hell,"
In raptures sang a cheerful bell,
"Look up to heaven this holy day,
Where angels wait to lead the way.
There are no fires, no fiends to blight
The future life; be just and right;
No hell—no hell—no hell—no hell,"
Rang out the Universalist bell.

"To all the truth we tell—we tell,"
Shouted in ecstacies a bell.
"Come, all the weary wanderers, see!
Our Lord hath made salvation free.
Repent! believe! have faith! and then
Be saved and praise the Lord amen.
Salvation's free, we tell—we tell."
Shouted the Methodistic bell.

"Look down, ye saints, in Heaven that dwell!"
Rhymed the Roman Catholic bell,
"Remember the battlements of bliss,
And deign to miss a world like this.
Let mortals kneel before the shrine;
Here the water, here the wine.
Look down, ye saints, in Heaven that dwell!"
Rhymed the Roman Catholic bell.

G. W. BEGAY.

MISSIONARY CROSBY.

His Work Among the B. C. Indians —Speech in Toronto.

At the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, on the occasion of the quarterly meeting of the city auxiliaries of the W. M. S., held on the 10th inst., Rev. Thos. Crosby gave an interesting account of his work among the British Columbia Indians. He tried to make the company understand where his field of labor lies. He described it as being the "jumping off place" of our country near to Alaska, about 600 miles up the northwest coast of British Columbia. A brief sketch of the salient points in his career, since he borrowed money 27 years ago to go as a missionary to the Indians of lower British Columbia, was made exceedingly interesting by life-like descriptions of his various unique experiences with the degraded people among whom he labored. He began among the Flathead Indians in Vancouver, whose language he learned and where the incoming of Christianity induced that people to give up the cruel practice of flattening the heads of their infants by strapping a board thereon. From there he went up to Port Simpson, where he found a more intelligent lot of Indians, among whom the work has been wonderfully successful. The central principle of their work had been to teach these Indians to be men and women, not mere paupers, to be supported by the Government and the missionary societies. He strongly urged that the Government should make treaties with these British Columbia Indians and then put the money paid for their lands into a treasury from which a fund for educational purposes could be drawn. It should not be paid to them in the form of rations and annuities which only served to pauperise the recipients. He pronounced the whole treatment of the Indians by the Government as a "miserable system" which served mainly to give employment to Indian agents. As an example of the manner in which they taught the Indians to help themselves, he stated how on his arrival at Port Simpson he called a meeting of the Indians and asked them how much they would subscribe toward the building of a church. They granted a decided demurrer at first, being under the impression that Mr. Crosby had come with lots of money with which to build them not only a church, but also houses for each convert, as a sort of premium for becoming Christians. He speedily disabused their minds on this point, when they went to their houses and brought the only valuables they had—new blankets—and piled them at his feet as their subscription to the new church. In this way over $400 was raised at this first meeting. He also recommended that while mission schools should be furnished, the pupils should be made to buy their own books and slates. He likewise held missionary meetings on all these new charges to inspire the new converts with a missionary spirit. Last year $700 had been raised at Port Simpson for the missionary cause, and this wholly from the Indians. They had now in that country fifteen churches and nine centres of mission work. He reported that the Indian Girls' Home at Port Simpson—an institution under the charge of the Woman's Society—was meeting with encouraging success under the care of Mrs. Knight, Matron, and Miss Hart, assistant, and then turned to the needs of that region. Upon the consciences of the Woman's Missionary Society he would like to impress the need of founding at Victoria a "Rescue Home" for Indian girls and women, who were being enticed and sold by large numbers into a life of shame. Then, there was ample room for more missionaries among the Indians along the west coasts of Vancouver Island and British Columbia. He was now able to reach all this region, including 5,000 miles of coast line from Puget Sound to Alaska, by means of the little steamer Glad Tidings, and could see the immense chance for Christian workers throughout the whole territory. Mr Crosby is now relieved from the pastorate of Port Simpson and given a sort of roving commission on this steamer. He is visiting Ontario in the interests of the missions of Northern British Columbia, and will doubtless be heard in many Methodist churches throughout the Province.

—The crew of the Premier are complaining of sore and swollen arms in consequence of the vaccination which they underwent when they last entered this port.

—Rev. G. C. Patterson, of Chilliwhack, has decided to leave the province, where he has labored for a few years with much acceptance, and return to Eastern Canada. Mr. Patterson will leave for the east the first of next week, with his wife, whose ill-health has compelled him to make this move. Rev. W. R. Ross, of Manitoba, will take Mr. Patterson's pastorate at Chilliwhack.

The January ball held by the Saanich Agricultural Society took place last evening in the Agricultural Hall. The attendance from this city was not as large as usual but a large number from the district were present. Prof. Haynes supplied excellent music and dancing was kept up till early this morning. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Sugar Refinery.

An article appears in the Nanaimo Free Press which states that it is the intention of Messrs. Welch, Rithet & Co. to construct and operate a sugar refinery in this province. The writer of the article asks the Corporation of Nanaimo to bonus the refinery and calls attention to the advantages peculiar to that city for such an undertaking.

Municipal Election at Nanaimo.

The election for Mayor and Aldermen took place at Nanaimo yesterday. Mayor Bate was re-elected, receiving 118 votes; J. Hibbert, 110. The vote in the Middle ward, where the only contest took place, stood as follows: J A Abrams, 79; W E Webb, 74; T E Peck, 55; Walter R Wilson, 53; H McAdie, 41. The first three candidates, Messrs. Abrams, Webb and Peck were elected.

Dominion Lodge, I. O. O. F.

The Demented Man.

At 3 o'clock this morning the man Adams, who resides on the Work estate, was arrested by the police. During the night he became violent and commenced throwing cord wood through a neighbor's window. He took off his clothing on First street and was running around in a nude condition when the police were called. Four officers went to his house but found the place barricaded and it was some time before the crazy man was induced to open the door. He was secured after a hard tussle and was brought to the lock-up.

Does it Pay?

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with dyspepsia or liver complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the disease has a depressing influence on the mind or body, preventing them from thinking or acting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or any derangement of the stomach or liver (upon which the whole action of our system depend) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits, (over a million and a half bottles sold last year.) So we ask, will it pay you to suffer from any of the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the August Flower. Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all druggists and general dealers in all parts of the world. *

Change of Venue.

In the Supreme Court on Thursday last, H. D. Helmcken, of Messrs. Drake, Jackson & Helmcken, made an application on behalf of J. A. Webster to change the venue of the hearing of a suit in which Mr. Webster is defendant and C. McDonough is plaintiff. The defendant is charged with the responsibility for the failure of the Dominion Saw-mill Company. The application was made on the grounds that feeling existed in New Westminster and it would be impossible to have an impartial trial. W. N. Bole, Q.C., appeared for the plaintiff in the suit and read affidavits from Mayor Dickinson, Capt. Scoullar, T. J. Trapp and others, setting forth that a majority of the jury selected in New Westminster were recent arrivals and knew nothing of the case. The learned counsel contended that the hearing should take place in New Westminster, and that a change of venue would cause heavy expense to the plaintiff. His Lordship, Justice McCreight, reserved his decision.

Peck's Bad Boy.

A large audience witnessed the production of Peck's Bad Boy at the Victoria Theatre last evening by Atkinson's Comedy Company. Master J. J. Williams took the part of the bad boy and kept the audience in roars of laughter during the evening. His local hits were received with loud applause, especially when he referred to the municipal election. George Beban sustained the character of the bad boy's chum and assisted him in keeping "Pa" in hot water from the beginning to the end of the performance. Mrs. Peck (Miss Laura Adams), took the part in a most creditable manner and made host of friends by her rendition of the "Miller's Song" and "Bid Me Good-bye and Go." The young lady possesses a fine contralto voice which was heard to advantage last evening. Miss Effie Adams, the bad boy's girl, has a splendid soprano voice, and in a duet with her sister they received several recalls which were well deserved. The other characters were well sustained and the entire performance was thoroughly enjoyed. On Tuesday evening the company will give another performance with an entire change of programme. This performance will be the last appearance of the company in Victoria, and judging by their acting last evening we predict a crowded house on that occasion. A hearty laugh will be enjoyed by those present at the entertainment.

THE ELECTION.

The Closing Proceedings—Speeches by the Candidates.

At 6:15 p. m. last evening the candidates for municipal honors assembled at the City Hall where W. K. Ball, returning officer, declared the result of the poll amid cheers for the successful candidates.

Mr. T. Earle was elected chairman and called on Mayor-elect Grant to address the electors present.

His Worship thanked the ratepayers for the handsome majority he received and was glad the election passed off so quietly. His Worship in a brief speech said he would discharge the duties of the office faithfully and would work for the best interests of the city. Again thanking the electors the Mayor retired amidst cheers.

Mr. Robert Ward thanked the gentlemen who supported him and especially the members of his committee. He was sorry for the members of the committee who had worked hard and who felt his defeat more keenly that he did himself.

Alderman-elect Goodacre thanked the electors for the large vote which was cast in his favor and hoped the ratepayers had not over-estimated his ability. At the meetings of the Council he would work and vote to advance the interests of Victoria in general and Johnson street ward in particular, where he was accorded the largest vote ever polled in any municipal election held in Victoria.

Ald. Coughlan said he would work for the welfare of Victoria as assiduously in the future as in the past. He thanked the electors for returning him for the third time.

Alderman-elect Harrison thanked the ratepayers of James Bay ward for placing him at the head of the polls. He thanked his proposer, Mr. Rithet, and his seconder, Mr. Earle, for their support and influence. There was much room for improvement in James Bay ward and he would do all in his power to serve the city faithfully.

Ald. D. R. Harris said he would work faithfully for the interests of the city. He thanked the ratepayers for their votes and would discharge his duties in the future as in the past for the interests of James Bay ward and the city of Victoria.

Mr. Humber thanked the 124 voters and said although defeated he was a long way from being beaten. He would be heard from again.

Mr. Holland said he had no fault to find with the result and considered that he had done remarkably well for his first contest. He would possibly be a candidate at the next election.

The meeting dispersed after giving a vote of thanks to the chairman.

AN INTERESTING REPORT.

What the Health Officer has to Say About Sanitation.

In Health Officer Milne's report, presented to the City Council on Wednesday, are found some interesting statistics. Deaths were as follows:

December, 1887	19
January, 1888	20
February "	20
March "	17
April "	16
May "	19
June "	19
July "	20
August "	20
September "	29
October "	11
November "	20
Total	235

It is noticeable, says the health officer, in comparison with last year's report, the death rate is somewhat increased. Death was caused from the following diseases:

Diseases of the nervous system	26
Diseases of the lungs	48
Diseases of the heart	20
Diseases of the kidneys	8
Diseases of the digestive system	42
Diseases of the liver	5
Diseases of the blood	4
Diseases of premature development	15
Killed by accident	9
Cancer	3
Senile	2
Abscess	2
Zymotic diseases	29
Debility	7
Gangrene	1
Tonsilitis	1
Tumors	4
Rheumatism	3
Dropsy	6
Smallpox	2
Suicide	1
Total	233

During the summer and autumn smallpox made its appearance, but by timely action an outbreak of this disease was averted.

Respecting the practice of using water from wells within the city, the officer was of opinion that the water in few wells was fit for household purposes and that steps should be taken to have them abolished.

The necessity of a quarantine hospital for the city was referred to. The buildings now used for such purposes are entirely unsuitable and further delay may cause embarrassment in isolating contagious diseases.

Attention is called to the sanitary condition of the public school buildings of the city. Some of the departments are well lighted and heated, but the majority are not what they should be in this particular and in none of the departments is proper ventilation provided for. Several of the rooms are over-crowded with pupils and only enough room is left for a stove and a teacher. In nearly all the rooms the plan of ventilation is by opening the windows which is a very imperfect one. Doors and windows may be used for such purposes in warm weather but in cold weather they cannot be utilized for such purposes. An improved system is recommended to be adopted. The question of ventilation is one attracting the attention of sanitarians every where and none, the health officer says, is more deserving of your consideration. It is hoped that steps will be taken to make the school buildings as healthful as possible.

The fact is assured that many children suffer the slighter ailments day after day from the unsanitary condition of the school rooms, while at the same time such places are fertile sources and fruitful fields for the propagation of diseases among children.

SPEEDY TRIAL.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)

Bonk, charged with stealing a watch, was tried this morning and was sentenced to imprisonment for six months.

Cragie, Robbins, Sawyer and Grady will be tried by the Chief Justice on Monday next. The four boys are charged with being in possession of stolen property.

A Correct Feeling.

The friends of the Mayor were anxious to hold a demonstration and torchlight procession to-night in honor of the decided and satisfactory majority of yesterday, but at his request nothing of the kind will take place. Mayor Grant believes in accepting the verdict of the electors in a quiet manner.

Grand Clearance Sale of Fancy Holiday Goods.

Fire at Port Townsend.

About 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon a fire broke out on Water street, Port Townsend, in a row of frame buildings between Waterman & Katz and Clapp's bank building. The buildings were burned to the ground. They were fully insured with but little on the contents. The buildings were occupied by a butcher shop, saloon, book store and millinery store.

Burns' Anniversary.

The members of St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society will hold their annual ball on the evening of January 25th, Burns' anniversary. The ball will take place in the Assembly Rooms, Fort street, opening at 9 p. m. This annual ball is the principal event of the year, and the coming occasion will be equal, if it does not surpass, any previous assemblage held by the society. Tickets can be procured from the secretary, John Ross, or from any members of the committee.

The Concert To-night.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the concert to be given in the Victoria Theatre this evening under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The feature of the performance will be the renditions of the renowned violinists Professor Heine and Miss Heine. Any one who has not heard these remarkable artists should not miss the opportunity of hearing them this evening. No one can fail to come away delighted.

Election Echoes.

Some heartless fiend put crape on the door of the Colonist office last night.

The hair on the top of the head of the senior proprietor of the Colonist stood up like quills on the back of a fretful porcupine when the announcement that Mayor Grant had been re-elected by 226 majority had percolated through his cranium.

Everybody wanted to know to-day about the "rooster" and if he was coming out to-night. THE TIMES "rooster" is a very modest bird and is satisfied with a victory without making too much fuss over it. The Colonist "rooster" is reported to have died immediately on hearing the state of the poll last evening.

Willis Bond and a prominent newspaper man were observed standing out in the rain last night sympathising with one another over the result of the election.

Expressions Heard To-Day.

"In the soup."

Did you ever hear of a man being 'snowed under."

One hundred and forty-two was bad enough, but 226 is awful.

'Tis better to have run for the mayoralty and lost than never to have run at all.

"I'll bet Dave is laughing in his sleeve about it."

Appomattox court house is where Lee surrendered to Grant. Victoria's court house told a tale yesterday.

It would be interesting to know who the famous "204." are What about the other 409?

Where is those r-o-o-s-t-e-r-s!

Eminent Dead of 1888.

The death list of rulers is more than ordinarily long and notable. William I, of Germany, the oldest monarch in years of which there is any authentic record; his son, Frederick the III, the famous Crown Prince of the quarter of a century immediately preceding his accession to the German throne; Sir John A. Brand, President of the Congo Free State; President Salomon, of Hayti, and M. Heinstein, President of Switzerland, have, during the year, laid down the sceptre of power at the bidding of the Great Ruler of the universe.

Within the year Rear Admirals Edward Simpson, Charles H. Baldwin and W. E. Leroy; Commodores Samuel Barron, Cicero Price, R. B. Hitchcock and Charles W. Pickering of the United States navy, and Admiral Chestakoff, of Russia, sailed over the dark river.

For General P. H. Sheridan, Marshal Bazaine, Generals R. B. Ayers, Samuel Minnes, John B. McIntosh, Quincy A. Gillmore, J. B. Sweetzer, Augustus Morse, James C. Lane, Henry A. Smalley, Henry J. Farnworth and Albermarle Cady, and Colonels George W. Wallace, David Taggart and George Gibson, since 1888 opened, the death angel has sounded "taps."

North Arm.

North Arm, Jan. 15.—Our beautiful weather still continues, but the nights are quite frosty and slight scums of ice occasionally appear in the river. This morning brings the first snow of the season.

The nomination of officers in the municipality of Richmond took place at the Town Hall, Lulu Island, on Monday, January 14th, from 12 o'clock noon to 2 p.m.m. At the close of the nominations, Mr. O. D. Sweet, Returning officer, declared the following gentlemen elected by acclamation: E. Kidd, Esq., Reeve; Councillors, B. W. Garrett, J. Blair, D. Reid, H. Daniels, and Capt. W. T. Stewart and J. Sirs candidates for Sea Island ward, which will necessitate a poll on Thursday, the 17th inst.

Messrs. J. C Vermilyea and B. W. Garrett returned home on Monday after a rather romantic experience on the "rolling deep." They went over to Vancouver one day last week and thence to Victoria on a business trip, but being on the Islander on her return trip to Vancouver when she was refused a landing, they were compelled to return to Victoria and take the Lodise to Westminster, thence by rail to Vancouver and thence home, a distance of some 190 miles to get home.

BRAINS VS. MONEY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The battle has been fought and won. A great victory and an overwhelming defeat! How the mighty were slain by the 204 white-washed brigade, led on by their general, Mayor Grant, who swept everything before them, even as a Manitoba cyclone! How the mighty fell under the crushing weight of 226 majority, the votes of hard-working and honest people, the bone and sinew of our country. The scurrilous, unprincipled, spiteful and villainous articles published in the Colonist for the last few days, trying to malign and blast Mayor Grant's character and future prospects, show the spiteful feeling those bald-headed pates possess. However, Mayor Grant beat the Colonist, and that "respectable" organ beat Robert Ward.

Picket Wire Fence!

THE above cut represents the Fencing as it may be seen erected on Douglas street, opposite the Scotch Bakery, and on Government street opposite the Telegraph Office. It is made in rolls from 2 to 4 rods, and is sold at $4.00 to $2.00 per rod (16½ft). Pickets are 4 ft. long and are destred distance apart. We also make a capital Chicken Fence of latter. The Fence is made of Pickets woven into Double Strands of Heavy Galvanized "Telegraph" Wire. Each cable will stand a strain of 1900lbs. After being in use, the staples may be withdrawn, the Fence rolled up and carried to other points without injury. No two pieces of wood come in contact, no rails or nails are used, and it will last 40 years. It will turn horses, cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry. The Dominion Government has scores of miles of this fencing along the Intercolonial Railway. jal9-1m
